Faith Talks

A United Women in Faith Podcast

In the wake of the Uvalde school shooting, communities around the country are rushing to “harden” schools with increased police presence. But will these efforts really make schools safe for students of color, or will it strengthen the school-to-prison pipeline? The UWFaith will be holding a special Faith Talks on Aug 4th at 2 p.m. EST for this important discussion. To register, visit www.meridianumc.com/UWFaith.
